Your dental and oral health is important for your overall health. Related conditions include:

- Endocarditis: An infection of the inner lining of your heart (endocardium) can occur when bacteria from your mouth enters your bloodstream when your gums bleed.
- Cardiovascular disease: Has been linked to inflammation and infections caused by oral bacteria.
- Periodontitis: Has been linked to premature birth and low birth weight.
- Diabetes: Gum disease appears to be more frequent and severe among people who have diabetes, and people who have gum disease have a harder time controlling their blood sugar levels.
- Osteoporosis: Causes bones to become weak and brittle — might be linked with periodontal bone loss and tooth loss.
- Alzheimer's disease: Tooth loss before age 35 might be a risk factor for Alzheimer's disease.

How to Pay for your Dental Care

If you have dental insurance, you may ask any dentist that you want to see if they accept your insurance, what the co-pays are, what is covered, etc. You may call your dental insurance company to get a list of dentists in your area that take your insurance.

If you have Medi-Cal, you may qualify for dental services under Denti-Cal.

If you have no insurance and are paying cash for your services, ask the dental office if they have cash discounts or student discounts for GWC students (some offer this).
